5

WIRELESS COMMUNICATION SYSTEM AND METHOD FOR SORTING LOCATION RELATED INFORMATION

ABSTRACT

A system and method for sorting information that has particular significance at a specific location only to those individuals that are at or near that geo-spatial location. The system includes a GPS client wireless component that can be a personal wireless communication device (such as Palm Pilot, cellular digital phones, etc.) or personal computer configured for use within a global position satellite network.